

TOKENOMICS

- WODH is a token for the “Worlds of Dr. Hems” game. Holders will share long-term success of the game by signaling their support in this project.

- WODH has a max supply of 2.000.000 tokens and the first 15% will be sold in pre-sales. 5% only for Top 50 NFT owners. The rest 10% in the 2nd sale which will be a public sale.
- The team will keep 15% of the supply and the half part will be locked for 12 months and the other half for 24 months.
- 20% of the WODH token will be stored for in-game rewards. This part will also be locked till the 2nd part of the game “Dark Planet Battle Mode” is published.
- 15% of the supply is for staking rewards; this staking will be available just after the “Alpha Lab Mode” will be published. The holders will have a chance to stake WODH token alone, HEMS token alone, or WODH and HEMS token together for a better annual percentage yield. (APY)
- The game “Worlds of Dr. Hems” is divided into three parts. The first part, Alpha Lab Mode, the 2nd part, the main production mode, and finally the “Dark Planet, Battle Mode”
- WODH token will be a Game Reward in the last mode. That’s why the burning mechanism will not be as the Hems token. For HEMS Token, the burning mechanism is what game producers care about a lot. The HEMS token will be a reward for gamers but also like a stable coin to use to gain an advantage.
- WODH token, like many governance tokens, will redistribute value within the ecosystem in time.
- For the Mobile Version main game, Dark Planet Battle Mode, very new partnerships will be signed in the future. For the costs of building a stronger group, and producing a much stronger and enjoyable game for everyone, 20% of the token supply is locked for the strategic Business Partnerships.
- To grow the community, 5% will be shared with advisors, and 10% left for the treasury.

TOKEN USAGE - WODH

- The game native token WODH will be the main reward for Season Prizes. The top 100 players in every season will receive WODH tokens and the amounts will be announced later.
- The Dark Planet - Battle Mode will have NFT's to be announced later. Like warriors and battle items. With WODH tokens and HEMS tokens combined, players will have a chance to craft items and get higher-level items and characters. Those will give players a better chance to compete in the battle mode.
- Much more to be announced later and whatever is announced, all these new details will be to make the In-Game Economy in favor of our long-term players who showed their trust in the game much earlier.

Note: Max Supply and all the Pre-Sale prices and percentages are set. These won't change. Still, the burning mechanism can surely have minor changes. These updates will be published here and on medium when game versions change and/or token sale dates are announced.
